Re: Gunvalson v. PTC Therapeutics, Inc.
Case No. 2:08-cv-03559-WJM-MF
Our File No. 11773.74768

Dear Judge Martini:

We represent PTC Therapeutics, Inc. in this matter. This will confirm a discussion that Marc Wolin, plaintiffs' counsel, and I had with your law clerk this afternoon. The parties stipulate that the Court can decide the preliminary injunction motion based upon the legal arguments, affidavits and declarations that are submitted. It was agreed that the parties will neither call witnesses, nor seek to admit evidence beyond what has been filed with the motion papers, at the time of the hearing. However, oral argument is requested. We have reserved our right to reconsider this agreement in the event that something unexpected is contained in plaintiffs' reply papers. If that event occurs then plaintiffs have also reserved their right to reconsider this agreement.

Respectfully yours,

Kenneth R. Meyer
